

HIGH SPEED FILM TO DIGITAL CONVERSION

ABSTRACT

This invention shows how an area CCD array can be partitioned into subsections to greatly improve the readout rates. Also disclosed is a technique of ping ponging the disk arrays so that the partitions can be stored for a frame time and then output to a common storage device.